

JOB OFFER FOR IT GEEKS

Start your career in IT as AUTOMATION SCRIPTS DEVELOPER and find out how the real software is made.

About the job

- Remote work, you can work from wherever you want
- Students friendly part time job with flexible working hours
- For graduate or student of min second year of Computer Science, Mathematics or related studies

What you will do

- developing of web based enterprise application
- programming tests automation scripts
- continuously raising your skills in the field of programming, test automation and used tools
- drill-down issues and reporting bugs
- cooperation with developers team, participating team meetings

Our minimal requirements

- C# .NET and Visual Studio environment
- HTML+CSS
- Object Oriented Programming
- tester intuition and headstrong troubleshooter
- analytical thinking
- English in reading and writing (not necessarily in speaking)

Skills that are welcome or... we'll teach you if needed

- Selenium, NUnit, JMeter
- tools improving web development FireBug, Fiddler or Web Developer
- code debugging
- version control systems like GIT

To apply for this position please send your CV (PL or EN) to jobs@procurement.com

For more information visit www.tinyurl.com/pnce-job or www.procurement.com

Applications sent to us will be taken into consideration only if they include the following statement:

"I hereby consent to Procurement using my personal data sent in the recruitment process and I understand and agree that Procurement is the personal data administrator. I agree that these data will be processed for the current and future needs of the recruitment purposes and stored for three years in the internal system of Procurement and that the provided data will not be shared with other recipients or transferred to a third country."